We're using the same entry platform used last year, though the login screen looks different — if you created an account and submitted entries last year, please use the same account. All deadlines to complete your entry are midnight ET. Information is available at www.caj.ca/awards. For the link to the submission site, point your browser to www.caj.ca/awards.

A few notes on the process:

- Before you go to the entry site, please consider the entry categories and what you wish to submit. Collating and collecting relevant files, links and the cover letter is encouraged prior to logging in.
- If you did not submit an entry in 2015 or 2016, you will need to create a submission account. Do this by clicking “To enter the 2016 CAJ Awards click here.” Enter your email to begin the process. Those who entered previously can login at this screen.
- Follow the page-by-page prompts to complete each of the forms tied to your entries.
- On the first entry submission screen, please be sure to enter accurate information about the entrant and entry — these fields are used to apply the correct entry fee(s) and if entered incorrectly could result in payment of the wrong amount.
- The first screen for submitting your entry covers details about the entry; the second allows you to attach files; and the third allows for URL submissions. You are then taken to confirmation screens. To pay, “checkout” from your cart.
- The system allows uploads of up to 21 files in a wide variety of formats, including video and audio files..
- You can enter up to five URLs for online work or for streaming video/audio. Please ensure the links remain accessible and functional throughout the judging period (beginning of April).
- Payment is done via integrated PayPal option. Fees are calculated and paid without leaving the entry site. Please double check your fee calculation to ensure you are paying the correct fee. If the incorrect fee appears, please DO NOT finalize your entry. Contact us to resolve the matter.
- If you run into any difficulties through the process and/or have any questions, please email awards@caj.ca.
